Invocation to Goddess Shakthi as VAISHNO DEVI

Vaishno Devi, also known as Vaishnavi (wife of Vishnu), is a manifestation of Mahalakshmi, the 'benevolent' aspect of the Goddess Shakthi. She is usually depicted as an extremely attractive lady, immaculately dressed in red, wearing very expensive ornaments, riding a tiger and having 8 arms – in 7 of which she carries trident, discuss, bow, arrow, lotus, mace, and a sword. Her eighth hand has an 'abhaya gesture' showing that she is ever-ready to fulfill all the desires of the millions of devotees who faithfully surrender to her every year. Her 'pindi darshanam' (her formless form) is the 3 small natural mounds representing the Tridevis of Mata Mahakali, Mata Vaishnodevi and Mata Saraswathi. This natural formation (swyam-bhoo) is inside a holy cave located in the folds of the Trikuta (three peaked) Mountain. A pilgrim has to climb 5200 feet to reach the Holy Cave which is done in a meandering gradually ascending track of 14.5km from the base camp at Katra. Despite this, millions visit the temple because a pilgrimage to the Holy Shrine of Mata Vaishno Devi is the holiest for the Hindus.

There is popular belief about the Goddess expressed in the local folklore as "Maa Aap Bulandi" (Mother Herself Calls). This means "one can visit her only when she calls". When such a call comes from her, a person needs to just take one step and leave the rest to her. His/her journey gets fulfilled without any hindrance with Her divine blessings. Simultaneously, it is also believed that unless there is a bulawa, no one can visit Her, howsoever powerful and mighty he might be. Even those who have never heard of the Goddess are called by her and they suddenly become eager to make this tedious journey to Jammu. The most important belief amongst the devotees is that Maa Vaishno Devi is so full of mercy that she will instantly grant everything one seeks while at her presence. There are innumerable instances of ordinary people who have achieved extra-ordinary things which earlier appeared beyond their capacities. Such is the power of Maa Vaishno Devi.

A geological study of the Holy Cave has indicated it to be almost a million years old. However, there is no mention of this temple or her worship in the Vedas although Trikuta Mountain is mentioned in the Rig Veda (6000 BCE). Experts opine that the practice of worshipping Goddess Shakti started only in the postvedic period and coincided with the birth of the Puranas (1000 BCE). “Goddess at Trikuta” is mentioned by Vyasa in the Epic story of Mahabharata as well. When the armies of Pandavas and Kaurvas were arrayed in the battlefield of Kurukshetra, Arjuna was advised by Lord Krishna to seek the blessings of Mother Goddess for victory. Amongst the list of temples suggested by the Lord, there is a mention of Viashno Devi. Arjuna then visits her and addresses her as ‘Jambookatak Chityaishu Nityam Sannihitalaye’, which means ‘O, the dweller of the temple on the slope of the Jamboo Hills’. (Jamboo obviously referred to Jammu).

While various versions of the origin and legend of Shri Mata Vaishno Devi are prevalent, there seems to be unanimity on the discovery of Shrine around 700 years back by Pandit Shridhar. It is believed that the Mata appeared in the dream of this great devotee in all her glory and guided him to her cave and the natural formations there. Later he arranged for a temple to be built there. There are legendary tales connecting the Goddess with Lord Ram as well. Whatever be the stories, when a devotee visits Vaishno Devi temple and has pindi darshan, he will feel energized and purified. Let us invoke that powerful Goddess of Trikuta Mountains, that Maa Vaishno Devi, that merciful Goddess who fulfills all our desires and surrender to her seeking from her a stress-free, peaceful life ahead.
